LUNAR AND TERRESTRIAL ALBEDOES (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Lunar and Terrestrial Albedoes Founded in 1906, the Westwood Astrophysical Observatory owes its inception to aid from Percival Lowell. In beginning a special series of its publications, the writer wishes to place on record his indebtedness to the warm sympathy and encouragement of a faithful friend. Himself an ardent lover of freedom, Dr. Lowell never interfered with the writer s free and independent ordering of the researches conducted at Westwood, but with a rare disinterestedness he placed at his disposal numerous spectrograms taken at the Lowell Observatory by the skilful hands of Dr. V. M. Slipher for measurement with apparatus of the writer s.design. Nevertheless, the gain was mutual, for the results throw unexpected light on some of Lowell s own researches and demonstrate that complete independence in respect to control and motives of action is not incompatible with a consistent working together for a common end. Lowell had been greatly interested in the research which forms the subject of the present communication, with its obvious bearing on the problem of planetary temperature. In his Temperature of Mars, he had adopted 0.75 for the albedo of a half clouded earth, and I, in my Greenhouse Theory and Planetary Temperature, had taken 0.70 for the same datum, differing but little from the value now found for the geometrical albedo of the earth, which is 0.72. Let me also place on record as a result of my intimate association with him, my recognition of the fact that his theories were based 011 an elaborate accumulation of unsurpassed evidence, that lie was always open-minded to new evidence, and that, while presenting some revolutionary new conceptions, he did not...
